INFORMATION ON THE SECURITIES

UBS AG (the “Issuer”) has issued UBS AG FI Enhanced Global High Yield ETNs (“ETNs” or “Notes” or “Securities”) due March 3, 2026 linked to the performance of the MSCI World High Dividend Yield USD Gross Total Return Index (the “Index”). The ETNs do not guarantee any return of principal. Investors should be willing to lose up to 100% of their investment if the Index declines.

The Securities are designed to provide a two times leveraged long exposure to the performance of the Index compounded on a quarterly basis, reduced by the Accrued Fees (as defined in the prospectus). Because the Securities are two times leveraged with respect to the Index, the Securities may benefit from two times any positive, but will be exposed to two times any negative, quarterly compounded performance of the Index. The return on the Securities, however, can, and most likely will, differ significantly from two times the return on a direct investment in the Index. The Securities are very sensitive to changes in the performance of the Index, and returns on the Securities may be negatively impacted in complex ways by volatility of the Index on a quarterly basis.

The Securities should be purchased only by knowledgeable investors who understand the potential consequences of investing in the Index and of seeking quarterly compounding leveraged investment results. Investors should actively and frequently monitor their investment in the Securities.

Investors will receive a cash payment at maturity, acceleration or upon exercise by the Issuer of its call right based on the quarterly compounded leveraged performance of the Index less the Accrued Fees, calculated as described in the prospectus. Payments upon early redemption are calculated in the same manner except that a Redemption Fee (as defined in the prospectus) will be deducted. Investors will not receive any interest payments or coupon payments during the term of the Securities. In particular, investors will not receive any periodic payments based on dividends on the Index Constituent Securities (as defined in the prospectus); however, because the Securities are linked to a “total return” index, dividends on the Index Constituent Securities are reflected in the level of the Index.

Payment at maturity, early redemption, acceleration or upon exercise by the Issuer of its call right will be subject to the creditworthiness of the Issuer. In addition, the actual and perceived creditworthiness of the Issuer will affect the interim market value, if any, of the Securities.

The Index is designed to track the performance of large and mid-cap stocks, excluding Real Estate Investment Trusts, across 23 developed market countries selected from the MSCI World Index (the "Parent Index") on the basis of higher than average dividend yields that are potentially also sustainable and persistent. Only companies with a track record of consistent dividend payments and with the expected capacity to sustain dividend payouts into the future as determined by the index methodology are eligible index constituents. The companies are also screened based on certain "quality" factors such as return on equity (ROE), earnings variability, debt to equity (D/E) as well as recent one-year price performance. The goal is to exclude stocks with potentially deteriorating fundamentals that could be forced to cut or reduce dividends. However, the Index will not necessarily be successful in selecting the index constituents with the highest dividend yields available from the Parent Index that are potentially also sustainable and persistent. Furthermore, the performance of the Index may be lower than the performance of an index composed of equity securities not selected using these screening mechanisms or lower than the performance of an index of equity securities with high dividend yields chosen by a different methodology.

Please see the prospectus for the Notes for more details regarding the calculations and details regarding the Index.

It is expected that the market value of the Notes will depend substantially on the value of the Index and may be affected by a number of other interrelated factors including, among other things: the general level of interest rates, the volatility of the Index, the time remaining to maturity, the dividend yield of the stocks comprising the Index, and the credit ratings of the Issuer.
